Nixon Has Support, Poll Shows

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is circulating a photograph of President Nixon with stacks of telegrams as part of its campaign to convince Congress the administration's Vietnam policy has overwhelming public support.

The postcard-size pictures show Nixon at a presidential desk laden with telegrams prompted by his speech on the war last Monday night.

Bryce N. Harlow, Nixon's congressional liaison chief,
signed letters sent to members of Congress with the photograph and an account of a Gallup Poll reporting 77 per cent support for the Nixon war policy.

"I am sure that you were as impressed as I was with the overwhelming public support of the President's position that was evidenced in the attached Gallup Poll . . .," Harlow said in the letter.

Some fruits of the administration's autumn offensive already are emerging.

The House appears on the verge of passing a resolution declaring support for Nixon's efforts to end the war.

In the Senate, a similar resolution with an added provision calling on the President to seek a mutual cease-fire in Vietnam — has 40 sponsors, including both the Republican and Democratic leaders.

Plans Center for Day Care

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A day care center will be opened in 1970 to help more than 200 children in the Fort Smith area, according to State Welfare Commissioner Len E.
Blacklock. The cost will be about $258,000 for the center.

Blacklock said Saturday in Little Rock, that the program will be funded 75 per cent by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The remaining 25 per cent will come from state and local funds.

DEMONSTRATIONS

the day a National Day of Prayer and Concern. He did not attend church services in Key Biscayne, Fla., to join publicly in the observance.

A spokesman for the Washington Cathedral said services
there were conducted as usual with "nothing" to commemorate the National Day of Prayer, in Newport News, Va., a prayer program at Todd Stadium drew crowds despite rain.

Today negotiations continue for the route to be followed by the antiwar demonstrators in Washington amid government warnings of violence and assurances from protesters that they plan only peaceful dissent.

Protest planners denied the predictions of violence. Dr. Benjamin Spock accused the administration of trying to frighten away demonstrators.

"It's perfectly clear that the talk of violence is all coming from the government," Spock said. "The government is trying in every way to intimidate people who are coming to protest against the war. President Nixon is desperately trying to make it appear the American people are behind him when in fact they are not."

The week's first demonstrations in Washington will come from the pro-administration side with two major events on Veterans Day.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, gospel singer Mahalia Jackson and Medal of Honor winner Rodolfo C. Hernandez will headline the official program Tuesday in Arlington National Cemetery.

This will be followed by a rally at Washington Monument being sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The rally is designed to provide those persons the President called the "silent majority" a chance to show their opposition to the war efforts.

At 6 p.m. Thursday, antiwar group plan to begin a 36-hour
"March Against Death" from Arlington National Cemetery to the Capitol with each of the expected 45,000 participants representing an American killed in Vietnam or a Vietnamese village destroyed in the war.

Friday a Youth International Party (Yippie) group will march with Spock to the Justice Department to present petitions demanding an end to the Chicago trial of seven persons on conspiracy charges in connection with disorders at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The "March Against Death"
will conclude at 10 a.m. Saturday, and a memorial service will mark a transition to the mass march.

The route of that march has been a matter of dispute with the organizers seeking a permit to go down Pennsylvania Avenue past the White House. The Justice Department turned down the request.

The protesters have agreed to settle for a route down Constitution Avenue but government officials say they can't come any closer to the White House than a distant view from the south side.

After the parade, a last major rally will be held on the Washington Monument grounds in sight of the White House. It will feature speeches by Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. and Dr.
George Wald, Nobel Prize winning Harvard biologist.

Entertainment will include performances by cast members of the musical "Hair" drawn from three national companies, comedian Dick Gregory and folk singers Arlo Guthrie, Pete Seeger, and Peter, Paul and Mary.

Pro-administration activities that will take place through the week include "Operation Speak-out," sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It calls on all citizens to join "in a civic patriotic program in their communities."

Topless Dancer Case Appeal Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today
the appeal of a topless dancer who claimed bare-breasted performances are protected by the U.S. Constitution from criminal prosecution.

The dancer, Carol Derrington,
24, was convicted in Portland, Ore., in 1966 of violating a city ordinance aimed at topless entertainers. She was fined $200.
The court made no comment
in turning its back on her appeal.

Miss Derrington's argument was that topless dancing is a form of expression guaranteed

Jonesboro Negroes Protest Song

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Protesting the playing of the song "Dixie," a group of Negroes demonstrated during the Arkansas State University and Drake football game in Jonesboro Saturday.

Members of the group waved placards against the song during the game and then walked out of the stadium two minutes before the game was over.

Later, a few protestors gathered on the university student center lawn, but no incidents were reported.

Many of the students were members of the Black Students Association at the university, but a number of the marchers were seen boarding a bus from Shorter College in North Little Rock after the game.

Says Pentagon No Longer a 'Grand Patron'

By WALTER R. MEARS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says the Pentagon can no longer serve as "a grand patron" of assorted scientific research projects with only tenuous links to national defense.

The Montana Democrat complained that more than $400 million was spent by the Defense Department last year on research with no evident military tie.

Mansfield said if the government wants to finance research on "the life habits of the auk,"
"the proper agency to dole out the funds is the Smithsonian Institution."

"And they couldn't get the funds," he said.

A n s f i e l d sponsored an amendment to clamp down on Pentagon research, and it was one of the few restrictions to survive intact in a compromise bill authorizing $20.7 billion in weapons purchases.

The amendment bans Pentagon spending for research without a direct and apparent relationship to a specific military function.

by the First Amendment to be free from government prohibition.

At one point she had won a ruling from an appeals court in Oregon invalidating the 1965 city ordinance. But the State Supreme Court, by 5-2 vote last February, approved both her conviction and the ordinance.

Louisiana School Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected today a bid by a number of Louisiana school districts to legalize the freedom of choice system of school desegregation.

The school districts had asked the Supreme Court to review a decision of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans which held that the freedom of choice plans were unacceptable after they had been approved by two district courts.

The ruling was issued without comment.

The appeal was filed by Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F.
Gremillion on behalf of 36 Louisiana parish school districts and two city school systems, which had been threatened with loss of federal funds unless they filed acceptable plans with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The school districts argued that forced integration to achieve racial balance violated
the spirit of the court's 1954 school desegregation decision and would prove traumatic to the local communities.

The Supreme Court ruled last year that freedom of choice plans are not acceptable if they fail to achieve adequate desegregation of schools.

In answering the schools' petition, the Justice Department said very little desegregation had occurred in the two years during which freedom of choice
plans operated in the district.

Decision in Damage Suit Is Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today reversed a decision by Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts that a bus company was liable for a passenger's injury for failing to help her disembark.

The woman, Mrs. Grace Good-sell, 68, of Conway filed suit over an injury she said she received Oct. 20, 1967 in Jackson, Miss.

She said she was returning from Panama City, Fla., on a bus operated by Continental Southern Bus Lines Inc.

Mrs. Goodsell said that when the bus reached Jackson the passenger were told they would have to change buses. As passengers rushed out, she stood beside her seat, reached for a package and was bumped so severely that she fell, she said.

Roberts awarded her a judgment of $2,750 in a nonjury trial.

The Supreme Court, noting that the woman weighed 195 pounds, said that a carrier was liable for injury to its passengers only when it has notice of or reason to anticipate harmful events which it could prevent. The court said the bus driver had no reason to suspect that the woman would be given so severe a bump.

In another case, the high court upheld Saline County Chancery Court in its ruling that a note between Arkansas
Real Estate Co. Inc., and H. F.
Buhler of Little Rock was not usurious.

The company had appealed in a suit it brought as a result of a note between Buhler and R. M. Traylor, who dealt through the company in bauxite properties.

The record indicated that Traylor and Buhler began participating in bauxite ventures in 1948.

In 1954, Buhler gave to Traylor a list of cash advances made to Traylor in the preceding two years. They totaled about $67,000. The note was due Jan. 1, 1957.

In 1966, Buhler sued the company on the note and he and Traylor settled it without counsel. Traylor got the original note and Buhler obtained four other notes secured by mortgages on property in Saline County.

Eighteen months later, the suit was filed contending the four notes given to Buhler were usurious because, Traylor contended the original note was usurious.

Traylor testified that of the $67,000 in the original note $15,000 was interest. Letters introduced in the trial from Buhler to Traylor asserted that Buhler allowed Traylor to list
$10,000 of the note as interest to get him to agree to the note, although the $10,000 actually represented cash advances from Buhler.

The Supreme Court said that

Fifty-year pins were presented to H. B. Barr and Syd field Masonic Lodge No. 239 on

Wants Choice Plan Adopted by Democrats

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen.
Bob Douglas of Texarkana says
the state Democratic Party should "adopt the freedom" of choice plan of desegregating public schools on a "first come, first serve basis."

Testifying before the Platform Research Committee hearing in Little Rock, Douglas said the compulsory integration
by the courts had completely destroyed the culture of the Negro community in Texarkana. He said that both Negro and white students want to attend a school of their choice.

He said that Negro students in Texarkana schools were behind white students in the same group. He reasoned Saturday, that the Negro teachers were largely to blame. He said the majority of the Negro teachers and some of the white teachers were products of "diploma mills of the South."

During the hearing, state
Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin, said the number one problem in Arkansas' educational system is the lack of financial support. Bell said that while the teachers had received a raise, it did not compare with salaries paid in other states.

a usury contention must be plainly proven and that the Saline County Court had ruled properly in deciding that Traylor's argument was not plain enough.

The Supreme Court said that

Although it was pushed through the Foreign Affairs Committee last week without a hearing, it has not been scheduled for action this week despite the wishes of some of its sponsors. The backers want it approved before war protest activities start later this week in Washington.

It could still be called up this week but the indications now are that it will not be.

McCormack's insistence on passage of the resolution widened the breach between him and the liberal Democrats, further clouding the issue of the future leadership of the House Democrats.

The 78-year-old speaker recently announced he would run for another term as speaker in 1971 to seek vindication of charges his office has been used by friends trying to influence government officials.

The announcement dismayed
liberals who had expected Mc-Cormack to step down and were looking around for someone to back as his successor.

The unhappy Democrats are comparing McCormack's performance on the resolution with that of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield in a similar situation last week. Mansfield first had a provision added to the resolution urging Nixon to seek a mutual cease-fire in Vietnam, and then sent it to the foreign relations committee for a full review "of all its aspects."

By contrast, McCormack, a strong supporter of the Vietnam policies of both Nixon and Johnson, ordered the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve the resolution without any hearings and without any changes.
Democrats opposed to the Nixon policy see the speaker's action as an attempt to isolate them by forcing an overwhelming vote for the resolution.

In a vote of the full House on a Vietnam resolution, the liberal Democrats will be drowned out,
but in the Democratic caucus that will pick the next speaker
they will have a larger voice and they intend to use it.

Public Health Group Takes Slap at AMA

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)

Leaders of the American Public Health Association, with a slap at the American Medical Association, have launched a bid for their group to assume a major role as spokesman for national health policy.

The leaders of the 24,500-member organization of public health workers say the APHA should develop a leading voice in the establishment of the nation's health policies, "not for the narrow professional interests of anybody, but rather for the public interest."

The APHA's 127-member governing council will vote during its 97th annual meeting here on several resolutions designed to change the organization's traditional role as an advisor to health agencies to that of an "activist for social change."

Association officers indicate they expect the resolutions to pass.

If they are passed, and if the association develops the national voice speaking for the individual consumer that its leaders seek, the APHA will, medical people here say, be a clear rival to the AMA.

"Health conditions in this country are really in bad shape," said Dr. Paul B. Cornely, association president-elect and a professor of preventive medicine at Howard University College of Medicine.

Dr. Cornely and Dr. Lester Breslow, association president from the University of California School of Public Health, both said at a news conference Sunday that the AMA has failed to meet the health needs of the American people. The two men are not members of the AMA.

"The AMA," Dr. Cornely said "in the past has come out with approaches that were not to our liking . . . at their last meeting, for the first time, they became concerned about the poor."

"If they want to do something about the poor, and come up with plans that are acceptable to us, we'll be willing to join hands. But if they come up with something we oppose, we'll be critical of them."

The doctors said one of their major efforts will be to join with individual Americans who are the health consumers, often the poor. They said they hope to work with health organizations in the ghettos and rural areas.

Denounces Pornography in Movies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The film industry's self-imposed rating system has resulted in a rash of pornographic movies, says the president of the 75-theater Walter Reade Organization.

"This pornography has not gone begging," said Walter Reade Jr. "Exhibitors all over the country, hiding behind the implied shield of the X rating have renounced their personal responsibility for the films they choose and play."

Reade's told the National Association of Theater Owners' board of directors Sunday that the year-old code is a failure.

He said newspapers and radio and television stations have imposed a form of advertising and editorial censorship based on the rating of a film.

"Newspapers all over the country—San Diego, Reno, Oklahoma City, Phoenix, Indianapolis, Miami, in several Illinois towns, to name a few—have decided that X-rated films can no longer be advertised on their pages. In some cases they have also refused any editorial space to these films."

"Now in the past we've run into cases where specific ads or titles were unacceptable but never before this blanket blackball and never before has the ban been extended to cover the news columns as well as the advertising space."

"This, I suggest, is the direct result of the code and rating system that was to save us from censorship," Reade said. "It should also be noted that this ban . . . is practiced by a growing number of TV and radio stations across the country."

The X rating means youngsters—the age limit varies from 16 to 18 depending on the community—are not to be admitted to see a film.

But, said Reade, "we all know how few youngsters get turned away from X pictures. We all know how many times the X has been used to add to, rather than to restrict the potential audience."

HONEST TO A FAULT

Dear Helen: I am about to be married for the second time. My first husband was very considerate and sympathetic, especially of older people. He died two years ago.

Barton, my fiancé, is kind to me, but (as he says) he cuts through unnecessary sentiment to the truth. My elderly uncle is in the hospital dying. I want to visit him as much as possible, but Barton insists this is foolish—he'll be dead soon and why waste time on a lost cause?

A friend was killed recently. Bart said the family was lucky—he would have been a partial cripple, and they got double indemnity, plus a chance to sue for big damages. His idea is that if you aren't useful, you should be dead and stop bothering people. He says everyone feels this way underneath, but hypocrisy makes them put on the big sympathy act.

Lately I've been having second thoughts. Is Barton more unfeeling than truthful? And where would this leave me, later on? —WIDOW WITH HEART

Dear Widow: . . . In a lonely hospital room, perhaps, while your husband counts your insurance and waits impatiently for you to die.

Listen to your second thoughts! —H.

PERSONAL TO "PLAYBOY TYPE" who needs someone to "aid and abet" his romances: Not when you spell "abet" with a "d". I'm not that kind of columnist!—H.

Dear Helen: What with topless, bottomless, nude movies and nothing left to the imagination, it seems that sex is becoming such a popular spectator sport that I have a suggestion: Like in other sports, they should form leagues and have a playoff!—ED

Dear Ed: They do, they do. Haven't you heard of wife-swapping clubs?—H.

Dear Helen: The one we helped most stabbed me in the back. Now that it's over she wants my husband and I to forgive and forget and tells it around that we are cruel for ignoring her. Someone got a personal loan

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — If "Sesame Street," which makes its debut today as a new, daily program for preschool children, fulfills the promise of its preview, it is bound to have many post-school fans. It is a delight.

The experimental series, made with government and foundation grants, is being shown on a lineup of educational stations. It uses cartoons, puppets, performers, film clips, music, talk and, above all, keen, kind humor. Little ones—age 3 to 5 ought to love it.

A half-hour preview on NBC Saturday included an excellent demonstration of the show's basic premise. "The idea," explained a voice behind some animation, "is to make use of the things kids like to watch on television and use them to teach."

Since kids are fascinated by commercials, "Wanda the Witch," was presented "through the courtesy of the letter W." With bright animation and simple but amusing dialogue, the letter W was flashed repeatedly on the screen along with numerous words beginning with W. Then came a short lesson on X, equally memorable, equally painless.

Numbers were taught by a similar method, beginning with a "commercial" in praise of 79. Some characters were introduced, a huge creature called Big Bird and another called Kermit the Frog. Many hand puppets are also used.

It looks like an exciting package—at last a children's show that children will like and learn from.

"An Evening with Julie Andrews and Harry Belafonte" on

Page Three
NBC Sunday night was a real special—two talented performers rarely seen on television singing their best songs in a new style against colorful and imaginative backgrounds.

Solo and in tandem, they tickled the old and the new, the familiar and the novelties, touching a little calypso (Harry) and "My Fair Lady" (Julie). The comedy was gentle—perhaps the wittiest bit was a map showing Julie's idea of the United States when growing up in England—just New York, Washington, cowboys and Hollywood.

"Night gallery," a two-hour movie feature on NBC Saturday night, consisted of three off-beat Rod Serling playlets, all featuring fantasy and irony and hooked loosely together.

Roddy McDowall played an evil young man who, after murdering for his uncle's fortune, met his own end when a picture became a macabre mirror of terror and death. Richard Kiley played a Nazi war criminal haunted by his past and hoping to escape his nightmares. In the end he escaped — into a picture hanging on a museum wall. It was pretty far out and far too long.

The best and most effective segment starred Joan Crawford as a rich, selfish blind woman who acquired sight for 11 hours. She paid thousands for a man's eyes in a transplant operation and blackmailed a doctor to perform the operation—and was able to see for a few seconds before the Great Blackout that darkened so much of the nation in 1965.

Minnesota Roms Over Cleveland

Associated Press Sports Writer
An emotional binge—helped along by Joe Kapp and Gene Washington—sent the Minnesota Vikings storming to a 51-3 romp over the Cleveland Browns in a match-up of National Football League Century and Central division leaders Sunday.

The Browns, of course, know all about these emotional things. They enjoyed one of their own last Sunday when they ran over the Dallas Cowboys 42-10.

Coach Blanton Collier can only hope that Cleveland bounces back as well as the Cowboys did. Dallas showed little effect Sunday of last week's Browns binge. The Cowboys knocked off New Orleans 33-17 to remain comfortably in front of the NFL's Capitol Division.

In other NFL games Sunday, St. Louis walloped New York 42-17, Philadelphia and Washington battled to a 28-28 tie, Los Angeles ripped San Francisco 41-30, Detroit took Atlanta 27-21, Baltimore dumped Green Bay 14-6 and Chicago defeated Pittsburgh 38-7.

In the American League, New York dropped Buffalo 16-6, Miami edged Boston 17-16, Oakland bombed Denver 41-10, Kansas City ripped San Diego 27-3 and Houston played Cincinnati to a 31-31 tie.

Kapp and Washington teamed for three touchdowns passes—one of them on a play charged at the line of scrimmage which surprised not only the Browns, but the Vikings as well. Kapp finished with 116 completions in 24 attempts for 223 yards.

Kapp capped a sensational first half performance with his third TD pass to Washington—a one-yard scoring play which only the quarterback and his wide receiver knew was coming.

There were 16 seconds left in the half and the Browns threw an 11-man rush-line at Kapp. The quarterback looked over to Washington, who was flanked wide, waved to let him in on the plan and hit him easily.

The Viking signal caller didn't bother alerting the rest of his offensive unit but it hardly mattered.

The Packers fell two games off Minnesota's pace when they were beaten by undermanned Baltimore.

The Colts started without tight end John Mackey and lost his replacement, Tom Mitchell, as well as wide receiver Jimmy Orr with injuries in the course of the game. But quarterback Johnny Unitas resorted to a ball control offense that kept the Packers at bay.

Chicago had to make adjustments, too. For the first time all season, the Bears won and found themselves for the first time with the pleasant problem of giving out game balls. The Bears decided to award three to the defensive unit but won't decide who gets 'em until they look at films of their victory over Pittsburgh. The defense forced two safeties.

Gale Sayers scored a pair of TDs and carried 28 times for 112 yards—his third straight 100-yard game. Rookie quarterback Bob Douglass passed for two scores and completed nine of 16 for 123 yards.

Dallas tagged New Orleans in a game marked by a couple of squabbles involving Calvin Hill, the Cowboys' prized rookie running back.

Hill punched one Saint line-man after being tackled, threw the ball at another and then engaged in a pushing match with linebacker Les Kelley in the runway leading to the dressing room after the game.

"I got excited and lost my poise," said Hill. "I think I was just a little too high for the game." Hill's tackle-shattering runs produced 109 yards in 13 carries and Craig Morton completed 13 passes for 292 yards.

Johnny Roland scored three touchdowns and combined with Cid Edwards to shred New York's running defense and lead the Cardinals past the Giants. Roland gained 86 yards and Edwards 76 before both left the game with slight injuries in the third period.

A pass interference penalty in the final minute set up Philadelphia's tying TD as the Eagles baffled Washington to a stand-off. Mike Bass was saddled with the infraction when he went up against the Eagles' Ben Hawkins for the pass.

That set the Eagles up on the Redskins' one-yard line and quarterback's Norm Snead went in on the next play.

Detroit scored 17 points in the second period including one TD on a 96-yard kickoff return by Bobby Williams to whip Atlanta. Unbeaten Los Angeles stung San Francisco on a 93-yard scoring pass from Roman Gabriel to Wendell Tucker on the first play from scrimmage then held off a furious 49er rally in the fourth quarter to gain their eighth straight.

John Brodie threw a pair of late TD passes that chopped an 18-point Ram lead to four at 34-30. But Gabriel, who passed for 319 yards, put another TD on the board to wrap it up for L.A.

Hog's Play Wasn't Very Brilliant

By HARRY KING

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—How good are the fourth-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks?

Rice, the Razorbacks' seventh straight victim of the season, didn't help supply much of an answer Saturday at Houston, Tex.

The game proved that Arkansas, playing something less than brilliant football, was "good" enough to win by 24 points, 30-6.

After Arkansas' performance in the first half—penalties, dropped passes, a fumble—Rice should have had the momentum. The Owls had kicked a last-second field goal to cut Arkansas' lead to four points and were getting the ball to open the second half.

Instead, Arkansas, in a businesslike fashion, drove 58 and 72 yards for touchdowns that put the Owls down 23-6.

Coach Frank Broyles had warned the Razorbacks all week that they would have to be mentally ready to play and his displeasure was obvious.

He lectured the squad for several minutes before unlocking the dressing room to newsmen.

"We're not going after people mentally like we should," he said Sunday. "We are physically, but 75 per cent of football is above the neck."

"Mental attitude is like a balanced scale," he said. "When one of the teams pulls down, then the other goes up." Broyles said Rice obviously outplayed Arkansas in the first half.

"They came out and knocked us back," he said. "I am happy we won. Rice seemed to want it. Our players were surprised Rice wanted it so bad. But we won, you can't forget that."

Broyles will worry even more this week because Saturday's opponent, SMU, was beaten last week by Texas A&M. And, Arkansas, beat A&M 35-13 two weeks ago.

"SMU are a dangerous team," said Broyles, remembering last year's scary 35-29 victory over the Mustangs. "I can think of about 7,500 teams that I'd rather play than SMU."

Bobcats Run Up 46 Points in a Quarter

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Leading only 13-6 at halftime, the Hope Bobcats went from there on and massacred the Camden Lincoln Tigers 44-6 last Friday night in a 4-AA Western Divisional game at Hammons Stadium.

Fans watched in disbelief as the Cats ran up 46 points in the third period alone, then scored 25 more in the final quarter. Actually the reserves were meaner, too, since it was only 37-6 when the substitutions started.

Hope is now 8-2 and 2-1 in the division, entering this Friday's Homecoming battle with the visiting Nashville Scrappers, now 5-4 after a 35-19 loss at Magnolia, Camden Lincoln is now 1-8 and must play unbeaten Arkadelphia now.

Artis Martin scored four touchdowns on runs of 30, 24, and five yards, along with a 60-yard TD punt return. He also got 114 yards on the ground to make it 1024 for the season with two games to play.

Defensively, the Bobcats gave up the six points on Lincoln's first possession, a 72-yard drive on four plays capped by a 31-yard bomb for the tally from QB Cleveland Murphy to Richard Brown.

Other than that, the Tigers never could run whatsoever against the first unit Hope defense, and when the Bobcat reserves came in Lincoln had minus 24 on the ground.

The offensive line gained confidence by popping a couple of normal line blasts for TD's, on a 65-yard scamper by Isaiah Hendrix and a 34-yarder by Roger Newton. This allowed both the first and second teams to know how the plays can break loose.

That defense scored a touchdown on a 22-yard interception by Terry Vines and Calvin Willis blocked a punt out of the end zone for a safety. They also set up scores by Thomas Lloyd from 11 yards out and Ray Wheelington from the 16, and also the second stringers scored on a 99-yard fumble recovery and run by Tommy Miller and set up a 21-yard field goal by Ronny Brown on the last play.

All that, and it was only 7-6 Hope when Ronnie Massanelli passed 41 yards to David Still to make it 13-6 at the half. Hard to believe.

Kicker Ronny Brown kicked six of seven PAT's ran for another, and passed to David Still for still another.

And everybody yelled when the score of Arkadelphia 14, Fairview 13 was announced on the loudspeaker. That kept Hope alive in the 4-AA West race, but maybe the Homecoming and last home game with Nashville will take away some of the looking ahead to Arkadelphia next Friday.

Starting junior fullback Gary Jones set out the game with a leg injury, but he should be ready to go Friday. Otherwise, all of the ills have recovered as the coaching staff knocks on wood.

Tonight the Hope 'B' Lizards wrap up their 1969 slate at Hammons Stadium against the Magnolia Panthers junior varsity, and kickoff time is set for 7:30 p.m.

The 'B' Lizards are 1-6 against tough competition, losing to Texas A&M of Class AAA last Monday 27-8 with freshman Buddy Ingram at quarterback after a hand injury to Tommy Frazier, since recovered.

Earlier Magnolia won 10-0 on the Panthers' field, so Hope will have revenge going too with tonight's (Monday) rematch.

Crampton Beats Out Nicklaus

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
HONOLULU (AP)—It was a long, tough struggle for Bruce Crampton, five years of frustration that came to an end with his victory in the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

"It's been a long time since I've been here, in the winner's circle," the 34-year-old Australian said after a four-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus for the top prize Sunday.

"It's been such a long time. I had a good year in 1965, won three tournaments. But I have not won since the passing of my father. Very suddenly, late that year."

"It's been a long, hard thing to do to get things glued back together." But Crampton, a tour regular since 1957, had it all glued together Sunday. He had come from eight strokes off the pace to establish a one-stroke lead over Nicklaus at the end of three rounds Saturday.

Then he birdied his first two and won it going away. It really wasn't close. Bruce had a final 67, five under par on the 7,020 yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club course, and finished with a 274 total.

Nicklaus closed with a 70—never really getting untracked—and finished second at 278. He was followed by rookie John Schroeder and Chi Chi Rodriguez, tied at 280, with Jack McGowan and Tom Weiskopf at 281.

Crampton, who pushed his earnings for the year to $118,527, hadn't won an official tour event since the 500 Festival in Indianapolis and has finished second six times in the last two years.

Crampton, who now lives in Dallas, birdied the par five opening hole when he reached the green in two and then pitched to within five feet and canned the putt on the next hole.

He took his only bogey when he missed the green on the fifth hole, but got it back with another bird on the ninth, another par five that he two-putted.

He chipped to within three feet on the 13th, put it out of reach with a 14-foot putt on the next hole and iced it all when he put a four iron shot two feet from the pin on the 16th.

AFTER JUST missing an interception, Boston Patriots' Daryl Johnson shows his dismay with an angry leap.

Some Think Jets Are Not Doing Well

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
What's wrong with the New York Jets?

"Not a thing," replied quarterback Joe Namath. "We're 7-2, aren't we?"

True, Sunday's 16-6 conquest of Buffalo was a club-record sixth straight triumph for the New Yorkers, boosting them into a comfortable 2½-game lead in the American Football League's Eastern Division.

But, in five of those victories, the Jets didn't even display a shadow of last year's explosive ability that carried them to the Super Bowl championship. And, in their last four triumphs, the Jets really weren't assured of victory until the closing minutes.

Meanwhile, while the Jets were struggling to hand the Bills their seventh loss in nine games, Kansas City maintained its half-game edge in the Western Division by dumping San Diego 27-3; second-place Oakland ripped Denver 41-10; Cincinnati tied Houston 31-31 on Horse Muhlmann's 18-yard field goal with 22 seconds left, and Miami nipped Boston 17-16.

In the National Football League, Minnesota humiliated Cleveland 51-3, Los Angeles rolled over San Francisco 41-30, Detroit beat Atlanta 27-21, Baltimore stopped Green Bay 14-6, Dallas topped New Orleans 33-17, St. Louis clobbered New York 42-7, Chicago trounced Pittsburgh 38-7 and Washington 28-28 tie.

Bill Mathis' bulldozer one-yard for the Jets' only touchdown in the second quarter, while reliable Jim Turner, the AFL scoring leader, kicked three field goals—from 37, 25 and 47 yards—the last with 23 seconds to go.

The Bills' super-rookie, O. J. Simpson, who picked up 70 yards in 14 carries, had a three-yard first period TD called back because he was in motion before the snap. Bruce Auld's 13-yard field goal try then was blocked by Paul Crane.

Two other Alford field goal attempts also were blocked in the first half before he connected on a 20-yarder with no time on the clock in the second quarter and a 29-yarder in the third period.

Halfback Warren McVea surprised San Diego with a left-handed 50-yard scoring strike to Frank Pitts in the third quarter, then scored on a two-yard plunge early in the final period to break open a tight game as the Chiefs, 8-1, all but eliminated San Diego, 4-5, from the Eastern Division race.

The Chiefs' tight defense, best in the league, meanwhile kept San Diego in complete check, intercepting five Marty Donnors' passes. San Diego's Dennis Partridge kicked a 25-yard field goal in the opening period, but the Chargers got into Kansas City territory only two times after that until the closing seconds.

Mike Barrett's five-yard scoring run and a pair of field goals by Jan Stenerud, from 30 and 47 yards, staked the Chiefs to a 13-3 lead before McVea went to work.

Darryle Lamonica and Fred Bilenkoff teamed up for three touchdowns—covering 52, 28 and 15 yards—as Oakland turned back Denver to raise its record to 7-1-1.

It gave Lamonica a league-leading 25 touchdowns this season, while Bilenkoff's catches gave him 10 for the year, also tops in the AFL. Cincinnati's sensational quarterback, Greg Cook, fired four

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks, fried chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fats, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose weight. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

Citrus Diet Plan

L.A. Calif. 90016

Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 7 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth.

Boilermakers Will Take on Ohio State

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the week that was for Purdue's football team. The once-beaten Boilermakers travel to Columbus, Ohio, en route, they hope, to a New Year's Day engagement in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

It's the week Purdue has been waiting for since the start of the season—Purdue at Ohio State. And, like the old gag headline that read, "Stagg Fears Purdue," you can bet that Woody Hayes of top-ranked Ohio State fears Purdue. He has ordered closed workouts this week for his Buckeyes.

Both teams warmed up for the task at hand Saturday. Ohio State made it 21 consecutive victories with a 62-7 mauling of Wisconsin while 10th-ranked Purdue breezed past Michigan State 41-13.

Despite their 7-0 record, the Buckeyes have some points to prove. One is to answer critics who say they haven't beaten anyone of note. Ohio State's first seven foes have a combined 12-41-1 record while Purdue and Michigan, the final opponent, are 13-3.

Also, the Buckeyes would like to think that the Big Ten's best won't go to the Rose Bowl. Since they're ineligible under league rules to return this year, they'd like nothing better than to knock off whoever will make the trip and right now it's Ohio State with a 5-0 conference record to 4-1 for Purdue and Michigan.

With ace quarterback Rex Kern resting a bruised shoulder, second stringer Ron Maciejowski took over Saturday and passed for 139 yards and two touchdowns while running for 108. Fullback Jim Otis scored three times.

Purdue set a Big Ten passing record of 406 yards in trimming Michigan State. Mike Phipps, the Boilermakers' star, accounted for 292 and took over sixth place in NCAA career total offense with 5,470 yards.

Michigan, ranked 18th, breezed past winless Illinois 57-0 with Billy Taylor scampering for an 84-yard touchdown and 71 other yards.

Second-ranked Texas overcame a virus that struck 30 players and manhandled Baylor 56-14 for a school record 16th consecutive triumph. Tennessee, No. 3, defeated South Carolina 29-14 on Bobby Scott's three touchdown passes and George Hunt's three field goals. The Vols have their biggest hurdle toward a perfect season Saturday against Mississippi.

Quarterback Bill Montgomery cranked up Arkansas' sputtering offense in the second half and the fourth-ranked Razorbacks whipped Rice 30-6.

Penn State, No. 5, and UCLA, No. 7, were idle, but sixth-ranked Southern California downed Washington State 28-7 as Clarence "Who's O.J.?" Davis reeled off 196 yards and passed the 1,000 mark.

Eighth-ranked Notre Dame blasted Pitt 49-7 and ninth-ranked Missouri rallied from a 10-point deficit and remained tied for the Big Eight lead by swamping Oklahoma 44-10. Terry McMillan passed for 317 yards and three scores.

Among the Second Ten, 11th-ranked Auburn blitzed Mississippi State 52-13 and Louisiana State, No. 12, held off Alabama 20-15. Allen Shore scored twice as Alabama suffered a third regular-season setback for the first time since 1958.

Florida, No. 13, and Georgia, No. 16, struggled to a 13-1 tie; Jim Plunkett passed for 323 yards as 14th-ranked Stanford downed Washington 21-7 and Bob Cuthbert fired three touchdowns passes to Hermann Eber as Oklahoma State stunned Kansas State 28-19 and knocked the Wildcats from a share of the Big Eight lead.

Mississippi, No. 17, took it easy on Chattanooga 21-0; Ernie Jennings grabbed five touchdown passes as the Air Force trounced Utah State 38-13 and Nebraska, tied for 20th with Oklahoma, got by Iowa State 1-3 and remained deadlocked with Missouri in the Big Eight.

Homecoming Week Is Proclaimed for Bobcats Welfare Dept.

Has Time Finding Office

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Welfare Department is having difficulties finding new offices in St. Francis County following St. Francis County Judge W. B. Hamilton's order to vacate its offices in the courthouse by next Saturday.

State Welfare Commissioner Len E. Blaylock, said Saturday in Little Rock, that the department would make every effort to see that welfare services will not be curtailed to 2,000 families in the county.

He said that state law requires county governments to provide separate and adequate space for county welfare departments. Blaylock said that Hamilton told him he will not provide financial assistance to the department.

Blaylock said that normally county government provided 60 per cent of the funds to operate county welfare offices, not including salaries.

Friday night is homecoming for the Bobcats and Mayor Frank Douglas makes it all official with a proclamation designating the event.

Some taking part in the activities include left to right; Mads Judy Croom, Margaret Mauldin, Queen Lamar Cox, Linda Wray; Student Council representative Jimmy Alford, and football representatives Artis Martin and Ronnie Brown.

This week will be one filled with activities such as honoring the Homecoming royalty and senior football players; a Scrapper Funeral, a Bonfire, and the Homecoming parade which will this year include class floats. The highlight of the week will of course be the game itself with Nashville on Friday night.

Proclamation

Whereas it has long been a tradition to set aside one game during the football season as a Homecoming for all alumni

Whereas 1969 has been a year marked at Hope High School by outstanding play by the football team and by wholehearted support from the cheerleaders and all students, and

Whereas the week of November 10-14 will be observed as Homecoming Week by the students of Hope High School and the people of Hope,

I, as Mayor of Hope, do proclaim this week Bobcat Homecoming Week, 1969,

Theater Owner to Be Candidate for Governor

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — W. L. Landers, a Batesville theater owner, says he will "most likely" be a candidate for governor next year.

While Landers said he is a Democrat, he said it does not matter on what ticket he seeks the governorship.

Landers said he had hoped that Sid McMath, the former governor, would run for office. He said if McMath ran he would not oppose him.

Landers said it would be a

Jim: "South might well have bid three no-trump but he wanted his 150 honors."
Oswald: "He scored them and game and rubber also, but it required some really excellent play before he got through."
Jim: "East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and led back the jack. West ruffed and led back a trump. This left South with two tricks down the drain and two apparently sure losing clubs in his hand. Before you go on with the explanation, perhaps our readers would like to try to figure out how South got out of the soup."
Oswald: "It took a combination of end play, loser-on-loser, an unusual unblock and a little bit of luck to do it."
Jim: "South started by drawing trumps. Then he cashed his aces of diamonds and of spades and entered dummy by overtaking his spade jack with dummy's queen."
Oswald: "The stage was now set. South led dummy's queen of diamonds and discarded his king of spades on it."
Jim: "This actually was a winner-on-loser play, since the king of spades was a winner, but look at the dividends."
Oswald: "West was on lead with the king of diamonds. He was out of hearts and clubs and had to lead either a spade or diamond."
Jim: "Note the unblock. If South had hung onto the spade king, West could have put South in with a spade. This way, South was able to enter dummy and discard his two club losers on the 10 of spades and jack of diamonds."

Man Trying to Hijack Plane Caught
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A youth, described as in his early teens, was reported to have attempted to hijack a Chicago-bound Delta Airlines passenger plane at the Greater Cincinnati Airport today but was taken into custody before the plane ever got off the ground.
A spokesman for Ted Bushelman, public relations officer at the airport, said Byron Kinnaman, the airport police chief, got on the plane and seized the youth.
The pilot had reported the youth was holding a knife at a girl's throat and first word was that he had said he wanted to be taken to Italy.
"The man (sic) is in custody and the girl is safe," the airport reported.
The plane, Flight 670, was to have left here at 8:55 a.m. But the pilot reported the hijack attempt shortly before the take off.

THE WELL CHILD
Scolding Head-Tosser May Make Habit Worse
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q—Our son, 9, has a habit of frequently tossing his head as if to get the hair out of his eyes. We have scolded him for it but I'm afraid that just makes him nervous. What is the best way of correcting this?
A—You are right that scolding is likely to make the habit worse because it adds to your son's feeling of insecurity—possibly the root of the trouble. Ask him once, without any further show of annoyance, why he tosses his head. If he can't give a logical reason, you should consult a doctor who has a special interest in emotional problems in children.
Q—My son, 5, was irritable and hyperactive until our pediatrician prescribed Ritalin. What was the cause of his trouble? How does the drug control it? It seems to interfere with his appetite. What can be done about this?
A—Hyperactivity in a preschool child is caused by a delay in the physiologic development of the brain—probably hereditary and not to brain damage as was once thought. Most children outgrow it between the ages of 10 and 12. Since methylphenidate (Ritalin) is a stimulant, it is not clear how it works to calm hyperactive children but there is ample evidence that it does.
When the drug causes loss of appetite, the dosage should be reduced for a few days and brought back to normal strength gradually as the appetite returns. In addition to this you should see that your son gets plenty of rest. Excessive fatigue may be a factor in curbing his appetite.
Q—My granddaughter, 16, has Wilson's disease. What causes it and what can be done for it?
A—This inborn error of

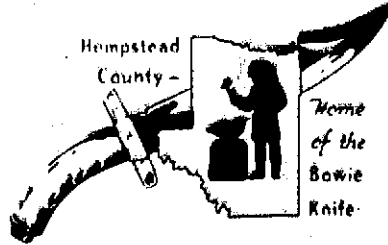

Hawaii Has Word for It
By CARLTON SMITH
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One item you can forget about packing when you visit Hawaii is your compass. Nobody in the islands pays much attention to north, south, east and west. They have another system.
When you get off the elevator in your hotel, for example, the signs on the corridors label the wings not as north or south, but as "maka" and "makai." You're apt to assume, at first, that it's just a colorful local custom of using the old native words for "north" and "south"—and you couldn't be more wrong.
Go to another hotel on the other side of the island, and you find that "makai"—which you had figured out must mean "south"—now seems to be north.
Confusing? Not when you finally get an explanation. It's simply a continuation of the ancient native method of keeping one's bearings or communicating directions. "Makai" means "toward the sea," while "maka" means "toward the mountains."
Since all these volcanic islands of the Hawaiian group are heaped up with mountains in the middle, sloping down everywhere to the surrounding sea, there's never any doubt about which way is "maka" and which is "makai." Especially "maka," which is also translatable as "uphill." For people who get "turned around" easily with respect to compass directions, it's a blessing.
For the islands, in fact, it makes so much sense that the language is used everywhere, by everyone. You find, for example, a sports writer describing a football game in a Honolulu paper: "If you sat on the maka side of the field, where the Kalamoi cheering section was..."
A language of directions, however, needs more than just two bearings. What do you do about "over to your left," or right?
Easy. If you're on the beach at Waikiki, looking out to sea, the most visible landmark over to your left—eastward—is the famous Diamond Head. In the opposite direction is the great forest district whose name, Ewa (pronounced eh' vah), goes back to antiquity.
So those are your directions in the Honolulu area. The broadcaster of a football game will identify the goals as Ewa and Diamond Head. A map of a shopping center has the four edges labeled Maka—Diamond Head—Makai—Ewa.
Other islands, or parts of islands, have their own landmarks. In Hilo, capital of "the Big Island" (Hawaii), you'd be directed to "go up Hamakua way" for any destination to the northwest, along the coast. You won't find a Hamakua on the road map; it's just an area of the coast that everyone knows by its ancient native name.
Now that you see how simple it all is, try this on for size: You've been sightseeing up on the north (sorry about that) end of Oahu, and you're motoring back into Honolulu on the highly scenic Pali Drive. Ahead of you is the Koolau Range, so of course you're headed mauka.
Now you pass under the mountain tops in the Nuuanu tunnel, and when you come out into daylight again you're headed away from the mountains, toward the sea. Makai.
Somewhere, somehow, while continuing to travel in a straight line, you suddenly switched directions.

Nixon in Good Health, Exam Shows

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Back in Washington after his most restful vacation since summer, President Nixon gets his annual physical checkup today.

A two-hour, head-to-toe examination was set at the Naval Medical Center in suburban Bethesda, Md.

The brief visit to the sprawling hospital was described as routine and Nixon was said to be "in good spirits and good health."

The President returned to the White House late Sunday after a long weekend in Florida and the Bahamas. From all accounts, Nixon kept official business to a minimum during the holiday that began Thursday evening.

Three key Cabinet members — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell — spent the weekend at a hotel near Nixon's waterfront bungalow in Key Biscayne, Fla.

The White House had announced in advance they were on hand to confer with the chief executive on Vietnam and the Strategic Arms Limitation talks with the Soviets, which begin Nov. 17 in Helsinki. They did some conferring among themselves but did not meet with Nixon in Florida.

The President and the Cabinet members finally talked during the flight back to Washington aboard Air Force One.

Sunday was designated by Nixon as a national day of prayer and concern for American servicemen held as prisoners of war by the North Vietnamese. The President did not attend church services, however.

Nixon will return to Florida Friday to witness the launch of the Apollo 12 moonship at Cape Kennedy. That will come in the middle of three days of planned antiwar demonstrations in Washington and across the country.

The big Washington demonstration is scheduled for Saturday and Nixon's plans for the day have not yet been announced.

Stennis to Guarantee Forum Next Year for Draft System Overhaul

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, says he'll guarantee an early forum next year for advocates of a sweeping overhaul of the military draft system.

But the Mississippi Democrat told his colleagues any "harum-scarum" debate aimed at adding reform amendments to a pending draft-by-lottery measure will kill all chances for action on that bill this session.

Stennis called his committee together today to consider the President's lottery measure which passed the House two weeks ago.

"I'm going to recommend to them that we pass this bill exactly as we received it..." he said Sunday.

Stennis said he would ask for reform-minded senators to hold amendments until full hearings can be held next year.

Stennis commented on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

McCormack Disturbs Both Sides

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker John W. McCormack has alienated some Democrats on both sides of the peace issue with his attempts to push through the House a resolution backing President Nixon's Vietnam policy.

Resentment over the speaker's action comes not only from Democrats opposed to the Nixon policy, but from some who support it but feel the resolution will be used by Nixon for political advantage.

The resolution, cosponsored by 50 Democrats and 50 Republicans, is general enough that it probably would have antagonized only the severest Nixon critics except for the President's Vietnam speech last

Two Persons Lose Lives in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two persons lost their lives in traffic accidents on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period.

The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

State Police identified the victims as Sandra Bruton, 16, of Boles (Scott County) and Tony Curtis Wheat, 6, of Rector.

Officers said Miss Bruton was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding apparently went out of control and struck a bridge on Arkansas 28 about 8½ miles east of Waldron.

Authorities said the Rector youngster was struck and killed by a car while attempting to cross Arkansas 139 about five miles south of Rector.

Ozark Lock, Dam Ceremonies

OZARK, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Rep. John Paul Hammer-schmidt, R-Ark., will attend the gate-closing ceremonies Tuesday at the Ozark Lock and Dam on the Arkansas River, near Ozark.

The Ozark Dam is the third in a series of six dams on the river that when completed will make navigation possible from Little Rock to Fort Smith.

those who wish to offer these far-reaching amendments and discuss it, guarantee them that we will have comprehensive hearings next year, then ask them not to bring the amendments up," Stennis said.

He said he already has discussed the issue with Assistant Democratic Leader Edward M. Kennedy, but not with other senators.

Kennedy broke an impasse last Thursday when he agreed in principle to a speedy draft-reform vote limited only to the lottery issue.

But Kennedy, whose administrative practices subcommittee has been holding its own hearings on the Selective Service System, said he wanted firm assurances full reform would be considered early next year.

His proposal: An amendment accelerating expiration of the Selective Service Act by six months—to Jan. 1, 1970—thus forcing Congress to hold hear-

Document Tells Enemy Attack Plan

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong document found 30 miles east of Saigon calls for intensive attacks in that region this weekend to support the antiwar protest march on Washington Saturday, official sources said Monday.

The sources said the document was taken last Tuesday from the body of either a courier or a liaison officer who was killed in a firefight with Australian forces.

The directive, believed to have been issued by the Viet Cong's local headquarters at Vung Tau, was dated Oct. 27.

It said: "In support of the upcoming struggle of the American people for peace of South Vietnam and the withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam, we are to launch intensive attacks in all aspects on the en-

Memphis to Crack Down on Marchers

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis Police and Fire Director Frank C. Holloman said Sunday he will see that any proposed march Monday by a black coalition is put down by police if it starts at 4 p.m. during the rush hour.

The march is scheduled as part of a fifth consecutive "Black Monday" observance and is to be headed by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. A similar march last Monday, led only by local black leaders, attracted over 4,000 persons.

Holloman said Sunday he had told representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees that late afternoon marches are hazardous to the entire city, including the marchers, and cause unreasonable traffic problems.

"Accordingly," said Holloman, "the proposed march at the time and place indicated cannot and will not take place."

"The police department will stand ready," he continued, "to see that it will not take place and will use such force as is reasonably necessary to prohibit the march."

The Rev. Ezekiel Bell, President of the Memphis NAACP branch, said later Sunday, "we have voted to march tomorrow at 4 p.m. and we will march."

Police Plan Crackdown on Shoplifters

Chief of Police Alvin Willis and City Attorney James H. Pilkinton said today that a concerted effort would be during the holiday season to reduce shoplifting in Hope. A majority of local merchants are cooperating in the plans.

The over-all effect will be to make it unprofitable for shoplifters to operate in Hope. "We plan to catch them if they do," Chief Willis said, "and prosecute them to the full extent of the law."

The City Attorney said that he would ask the local court to refuse cash bonds in Shop-Lift cases during the holiday season, and require all defendants charged with the offense to appear in court. "We can't refuse them bond of some type," he said, "but with the court's cooperation we don't have to make it convenient for them."

A committee of the Retail Merchant's Association will work out definite procedures for each store keeper and his employees to use in apprehending and detaining shoplifters until the police arrive. Any merchant that has not been in on the planning to date may obtain details from the Hope Chamber of Commerce office.

Demonstrations Will Feature Supporters, Foes of Nixon Policy

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

Supporters and opponents of President Nixon's Vietnam policy hold new demonstrations this week in the continuing controversy over the nation's involvement in the war.

A week of activities by groups backing the President will be highlighted by Veterans Day ceremonies Tuesday in Washington. The focus returns to the nation's capital Saturday when critics plan a massive antiwar march on a rally.

As signs of support through the week for Nixon's Vietnam policies, administration backers called for participation in parades, burning of car headlights, waving flags and the wearing of buttons that say "I Love America."

"Tell It To Hanoi," "Operation Speakout," "Freedom Rally," "Honor America Week" and "National Confidence Week" are among the titles given the pro-administration demonstrations.

Activities by supporters and critics began early. A Veterans Day parade was held Saturday in Midland Park, N.J., a town of 8,000 that has lost eight sons in Vietnam. Police estimated there were 8,000 marchers and 25,000 spectators.

Sponsors of the parade said they wanted to dramatize their support of the President's policies and opposition to antiwar demonstrators.

In Houston, Tex., a "march for peace" covered 36 blocks Sunday. Police estimated there were 900 marchers and put the total attendance at a rally afterward at 1,900.

About 75 of the demonstrators identified themselves as soldiers from Ft. Hood, Tex. Dr. Howard Levy, a former Army physician who was court-martialed for refusing to train Green Beret medics, told the rally, "Mr. Nixon shouldn't worry about being the first president to lose a war — but should be worried about being the first president to lose the Army."

Prayers were offered in many churches throughout the nation Sunday for the estimated 1,300 American servicemen missing or held captive in Southeast Asia.

President Nixon had declared

Judge Wilson Speaks at Rotary Meet

Judge John Wilson gave a few prognostications in a talk on various topics at the Hope Rotary Club luncheon meeting last Friday at the Town and Country. As a member of the Board of Trustees, U. of A., Judge Wilson's message mostly dealt with the athletic program there.

He told the club that over $366,000 had been spent on improvements ranging from the locker rooms to the much-publicized astroturf. He was quick to point out that a portion of the money made at athletic contests goes into the academic program of the university.

President Benny Coleman had charge of the meeting, and program chairman Floyd Leverett introduced the speaker. Club members were joined by two guests, Don Walker of Texarkana and the Rev. Charles Jones of Spring Hill.

The core of the decision by the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia is that a post office worker is entitled to overtime pay when his days off are temporarily changed—even though he winds up working the normal 40 hours that week.

The government argued that the 1965 pay law provided for overtime pay only when the worker puts in more than 40 hours.

Until the law was enacted a Post Office worker could be called in on his day off and given a compensating day off within the following five days.

Democratic Workshop Is Planned Here

R.D. Randolph, Field Representative for the Democratic Party will lead a workshop with the Hempstead County Democratic Women's Club on Tuesday, November 11. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the little courtroom of the courthouse.

Mrs. Sue Bruner, president of the Hempstead County Democratic Women announced that the topic of the session will be "Methods of Political Organization on the Local Level."

Randolph, a resident of Ratcliff in Logan County, represents the Democratic Party in the Third Congressional District. He is a former member of the campaign staff of U.S. Senator J.W. Fulbright.

All interested women are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

The Winners Were Even Better

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Pistons hammered in an amazing 55 percent of their shots from the field and if you think that was good, you should have seen what the winners did.

Despite the Pistons' sure-fire field goal shooting, enough to win most games, Phoenix controlled the backboards and raw away with a 140-129 decision in the National Basketball Association Sunday night.

The Suns erupted for 71 points in the first half and maintained a good lead throughout the second half.

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday, New York clipped Los Angeles, 112-102, and Baltimore thumped Milwaukee, 116-105.

On Saturday night, Cincinnati tripped Baltimore, 130-121; Milwaukee defeated Detroit, 100-96; Seattle took Philadelphia, 125-117; Atlanta whipped San Francisco, 106-93 and Chicago downed Boston, 103-87.

In the American Basketball Association Sunday, Kentucky defeated New York, 128-116, in overtime; New Orleans squeezed by Pittsburgh, 120-119, and Los Angeles bounced Miami, 126-115.

Eddie Miles had a team-high 22 points for the Pistons, whose fine field goal shooting could not offset Phoenix's superior rebounding. The Suns wound up with a 51-32 advantage in rebounds.

Connie Hawkins of Phoenix led all scorers with 35 points, including a 16-of-23 performance from the field. Jim Fox and Carl Goodrich added 24 and 21 points respectively for the winners.

Baltimore pulled away from a 98-97 lead with seven quick points with four minutes left in the game, then staved off any hopes for a Milwaukee comeback by dominating both backboards.

Baltimore's Kevin Loughery scored 12 points in the final period to finish with 27, high for both teams. LEW Alcindor and Ken Chappell paced the Bucks with 24 points apiece.

Willie Reed's 35 points led New York's triumph over the Lakers playing without their star center, Wilt Chamberlain, out with an injured leg.

Dick Barnett, with 24 points, and Bill Bradley with 21 supported Reed as the Knicks won their 14th game in 15 starts. Jerry West led Los Angeles with 28.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese troops kept up their pressure in the Mekong Delta and in the Central Highlands. In the delta they ambushed a South Vietnamese convoy and mauled a platoon of militiamen. In the highlands they attacked an American airfield.

Nine militiamen were killed and seven wounded when a North Vietnamese force overran an outpost manned by 35 men near the district town of Tri Ton in the Seven Mountains region. There was no word of enemy casualties.

The North Vietnamese at the same time shelled Tri Ton and another militia position nearby, wounding 11 civilians and three militiamen.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 51 of the enemy were killed in the ambush, which occurred Sunday in the same general area near the Cambodian border 125 miles southwest of Saigon. Damage to the convoy included three soldiers killed, seven wounded and six trucks destroyed.

Two North Vietnamese regiments which infiltrated deep into the delta last summer had had 221 men killed in five days of fighting in the Seven Mountains area and farther south at the edge of the forbidding U Minh Forest.

Government casualties total 52 killed and 178 wounded in the two areas since Thursday.

The truck convoy was shifting 155mm howitzers in the Seven Mountains region six miles east of the Cambodian border when the North Vietnamese set off mines and then attacked with rocket grenades and machine guns.

About a dozen North Vietnamese commandos firing rockets and grenades broke into the big American helicopter strip at Ban Me Thuot, a major military operations center in the southern part of the Central Highlands 160 miles northeast of Sai-

Hart Halted, Harding Is AIC Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every team in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference knew Henderson was winning because of quarterback Tommy Hart, but no one had been able to do anything about him until Saturday night.

Then, the astounding Harding Bisons lined up and stopped Hart and the Reddies 14-7.

The victory moved the Bisons, who didn't win a conference in 1967 or 1968, into the top spot in the conference with a 4-0 record.

Hart netted only seven yards rushing and was held to 65 passing. In the first seven games of the season, Hart had averaged 238 yards in total offense.

Harding is now in a position where it can win one of its last two games and gain at least a share of the title. However, the Bisons do not have clear sailing. They finish against Arkansas Tech and State College of Arkansas.

Harding as defeated Tech only once since resuming intercollegiate football in 1959 and has never beaten SCA.

Tech, the defending champion, stayed in the conference chase Saturday night with a 21-16 victory over Ouachita.

In other action, SCA whipped Arkansas A&M 14-2 and Southern State knocked off Northwood Institute 21-10.

Harding grabbed a 14-0 halftime lead on touchdowns by Charlie Jones and Charles Caffey and spent the second half protecting what they had.

An interception by David Treadwell halted one Henderson threat at the seven and a fumble recovery by Mike Conley stopped another drive at the Harding 12.

Quarterback John Pirpich threw touchdown passes of 21 yards to Rick Thone and 25 yards to Steve Carter to spark Tech. Carter also scored on a 30-yard reverse.

SCA parlayed a blocked punt and a pass interception into two touchdowns and a victory over the Weevils.

Larry Cloninger threw 11 yards to Tony Rinaldo for one touchdown and rambled 10 yards for another to lead Southern State.

Eight Americans were wounded, and one truck was destroyed. But 30 helicopters parked along the asphalt runway escaped damage when U.S. security forces quickly drove off the enemy sappers.

Elsewhere, only small clashes were reported.

The U.S. Command said there were 16 enemy rocket and mortar attacks Sunday night, and nine caused casualties or damage.

In Saigon, police sources said police had raided a house in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese quarter, and arrested 13 members of a Viet Cong sapper squad who were planning to assassinate Army Chief of Staff Gen. Cao Van Vien and his family.

Officials in Saigon said Viet Cong terrorists killed 64 persons last week, wounded 143 and kidnapped 37 others in increased attacks across South Vietnam.

Twenty-three of the dead were reported to have been national police, village militia or village officials.

The U.S. Command said American troop strength has been cut to 490,700—only 6,700 over the goal of 484,000 to be reached by Dec. 15 under the current withdrawal timetable.

is the lowest U.S. troop strength since Dec. 31, 1967, when there were 485,000 Americans in Vietnam.

Chamberlain Vows He Will Come Back

By JACK STEVENSON

Associated Press Sports Writer LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers face the possibility of going the rest of this National Basketball Association season without superstar Wilt Chamberlain although he vows he'll be back.

"I am so positive that I'll be back that I promise Laker fans and my teammates that in 13 weeks, give or take a week, I'll be out on the court again playing and helping the Lakers win the world championship," said the 7-foot-1 veteran of 11 gruelling pro seasons.

Chamberlain's view appeared most optimistic. On the most pessimistic side lies a slim chance that at 33 his career could be finished.

Wilt completely ruptured the Patellar tendon at the base of his right knee cap during a Friday night game against the Phoenix Suns. Surgery lasting an hour and 40 minutes repaired the damage.

At a news conference Sunday night, Dr. Robert Kerlan, an orthopedic specialist who has treated scores of injured athletes, explained holes were drilled in the bone and the tendon pulled up and reattached.

"Getting a firm bond is what we're worried about," the doctor said.

Asked if he thought Chamberlain would be back this season, Dr. Kerlan answered, "I would say it is more probability than probability," but added that Chamberlain's determination could make it more probability than possibility.

"Basketball is tough on this tendon," the doctor explained. "There has been some attrition (damage) through the years."

The Patellar tendon is part of the mechanism that straightens a knee and helps in jumping.

Chamberlain has a cast on his right leg from ankle to thigh and is expected to wear it from six to eight weeks while the knee heals.

"As soon as it is removed, I'll go to work on getting my leg and body in top shape," he said. Expectations are that he will leave Centinela Valley Community Hospital in Inglewood and return to his home by mid week.

Dr. Kerlan was asked if Chamberlain's size would make a difference in his recuperation.

"Yes," he replied. "If it occurred to a jockey, for instance, chances of coming back sooner are better. First, there is the total overall size and secondly the type of things he does when he returns."

The injury to Chamberlain was similar to one suffered by Elgin Baylor of the Lakers five years ago except Wilt's was below the kneecap and Elgin's above.

Baylor had said it was eight months before he could do anything on a basketball court and "it was a couple of years before I could move freely."

Chamberlain joined the Lakers last season with a five-year contract calling for a reported total of $1 million or $200,000 a season. Los Angeles won the Western title in the NBA last season but lost the championships to the Boston Celtics.

Laker owner Jack Kent Cooke, who visited with Chamberlain on Sunday, reported the injured player actually hobbled around his hospital room with the aid of crutches. Dr. Kerlan said this was planned.

There were some problems with the hospitalization of big Wilt. A special extension had to be devised for the operating table and a table put at the end of the bed to accommodate his full length.

Hull Ready to End His Disagreement

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks scored nine goals Sunday night. No, Bobby Hull is not back.

Hull, the National Hockey League's most prolific goal scorer, is in Chicago and reportedly ready to end the disagreement with the Black Hawks which has caused him to miss the first 12 games of the NHL season.

But he still was sitting it out Sunday night when the Hawks punished Toronto 9-0 and dropped the Maple Leafs in the East Division cellar.

In the only other NHL game played Sunday, Oakland and Philadelphia battled to a 2-2 tie.

In Saturday's action, Montreal whipped Toronto 6-3. New York took Los Angeles 4-1, Detroit edged Boston 3-2, Chicago downed Pittsburgh 4-1, and Minnesota tripped St. Louis 5-2.

PAYNEWAY, Ark. (AP) — Claude William Morgan, 54, of near Colt, was found dead Saturday in a machine used to mix sand and gravel at an asphalt plant at Payneway in Poinsett County.

Coroner Homer Bata of Poinsett County said Morgan's job was to keep the sand and gravel flowing into the machine and he apparently fell into the machine unobserved.

Miami Goes West and Sees Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Miami Floridians went west—and wound up seeing Stars. One of the Stars they saw was Wayne Hightower and another, Bob Warren.

Hightower pocketed 21 points and Warren tossed in 18 as the Los Angeles Stars tumbled Miami 126-115 in the American Basketball Association Sunday night.

Hightower scored 11 of his points in the fourth quarter to hold off the Floridians' late comeback bid.

New Orleans nipped Pittsburgh 120-119 and Kentucky stopped New York 128-116 in overtime in other ABA action Sunday night.

On Saturday, Washington bounced Miami 120-109, Pittsburgh ripped Dallas 139-120 and Indians beat Denver 99-96.

In the National Basketball Association Sunday, Baltimore downed Milwaukee 116-105, Phoenix smashed Detroit 140-129 and New York bounced Los Angeles 112-102.

After just 1:16 of the game had elapsed, the Stars went ahead 3-2 and Miami never regained the lead.

Don Siddle of the Floridians led all scorers with 28 points. Jimmy Jones' jump shot with 13 seconds left gave New Orleans its nerve-jabbing victory over Pittsburgh. The Pipers had a chance to tie the score and send the game into overtime but Charlie Williams missed one of two shots at the foul line.

Williams was high scorer with 29 points while Red Robbins had 23 to lead New Orleans.

Louie Dampier and Darrel Carrier led an overtime surge that carried Kentucky over New York. Dampier scored seven of his 34 points and Carrier hit six of his 28 in the five-minute extra session.

New Zealand Racer Looks New Fields

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer New Zealander Bruce McLaren is in Indianapolis today, $158,750 richer and looking for new worlds to conquer in auto racing.

The 33-year-old McLaren, one of the most respected race car builders and drivers in the world, began a week of testing his new McLaren car at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in preparation for an assault on the Memorial Day 500 next May.

McLaren who now lives and has his headquarters in England, won the final race of the season in the rich Canadian-American Challenge Cup road series at College Station, Tex., Sunday.

His first-place finish gave him his second Can-Am driving title in three years and a bonus of $50,000 from the series championship point fund. In all, McLaren took home $158,750 from the 11-race series.

His driving partner Denis Hulme collected $156,350 despite the fact that he had to leave Sunday's race because of mechanical problems. It was the first time this season that Hulme failed to finish a Can-Am race.

McLaren and Hulme, driving identical orange and black cars designed by McLaren, so dominated the 1969 Can-Am season that they took home almost half the available prize and accessory money. McLaren won six of the races, Hulme five.

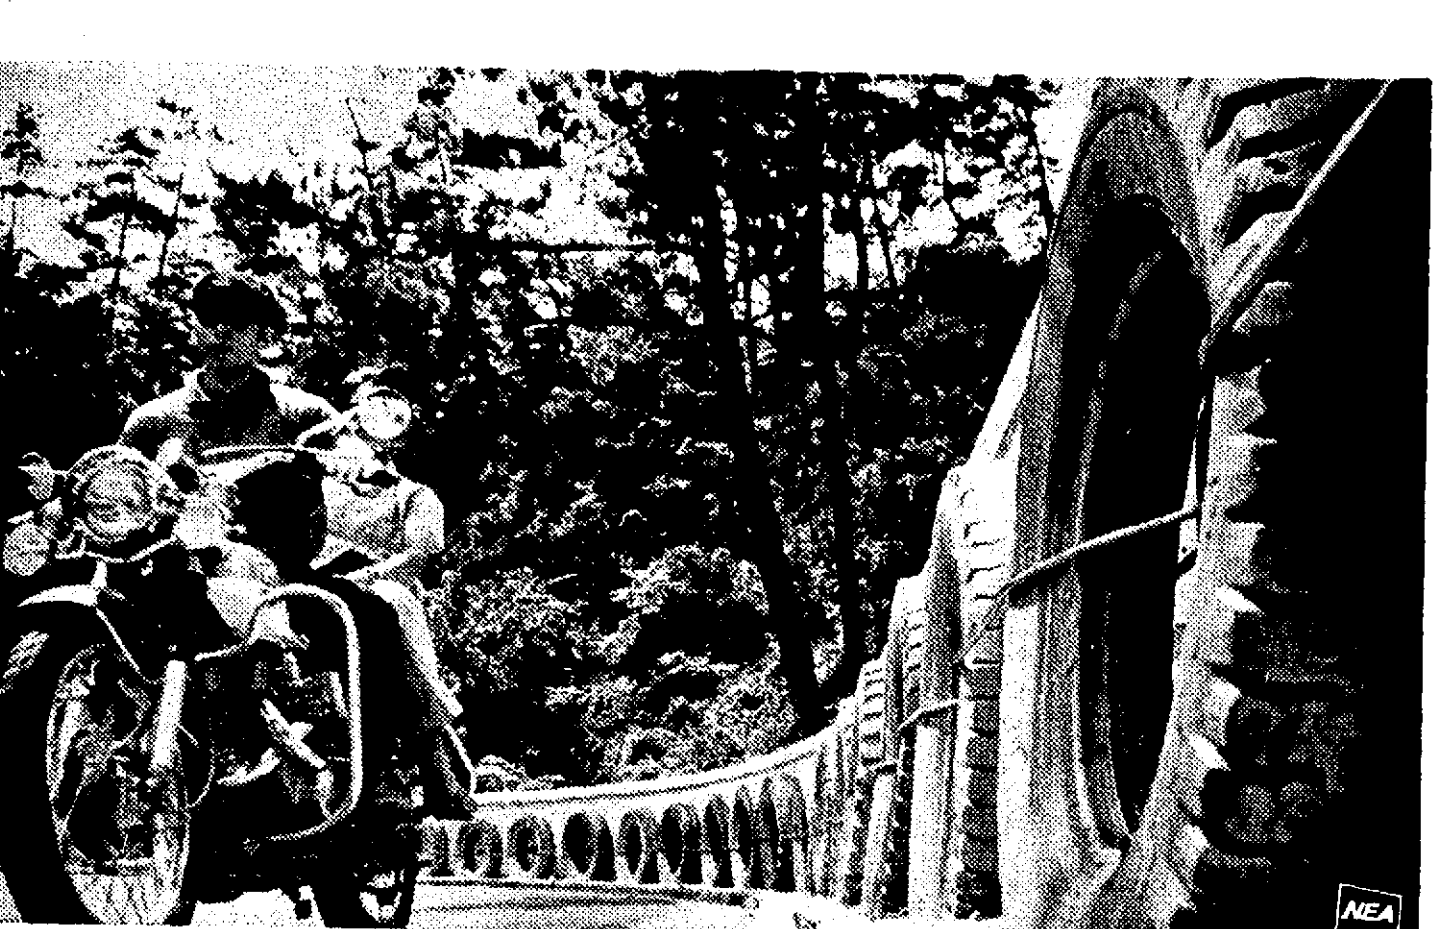

Chuck Parsons of Deerfield, Ill., copped third place in the final standings and was paid $26,000. Parsons also collected $51,000 in purse money during the season. He finished fifth Sunday.

Young George Eaton, a 23-year-old heir to a Canadian department store fortune, finished second behind McLaren in the Texas race.

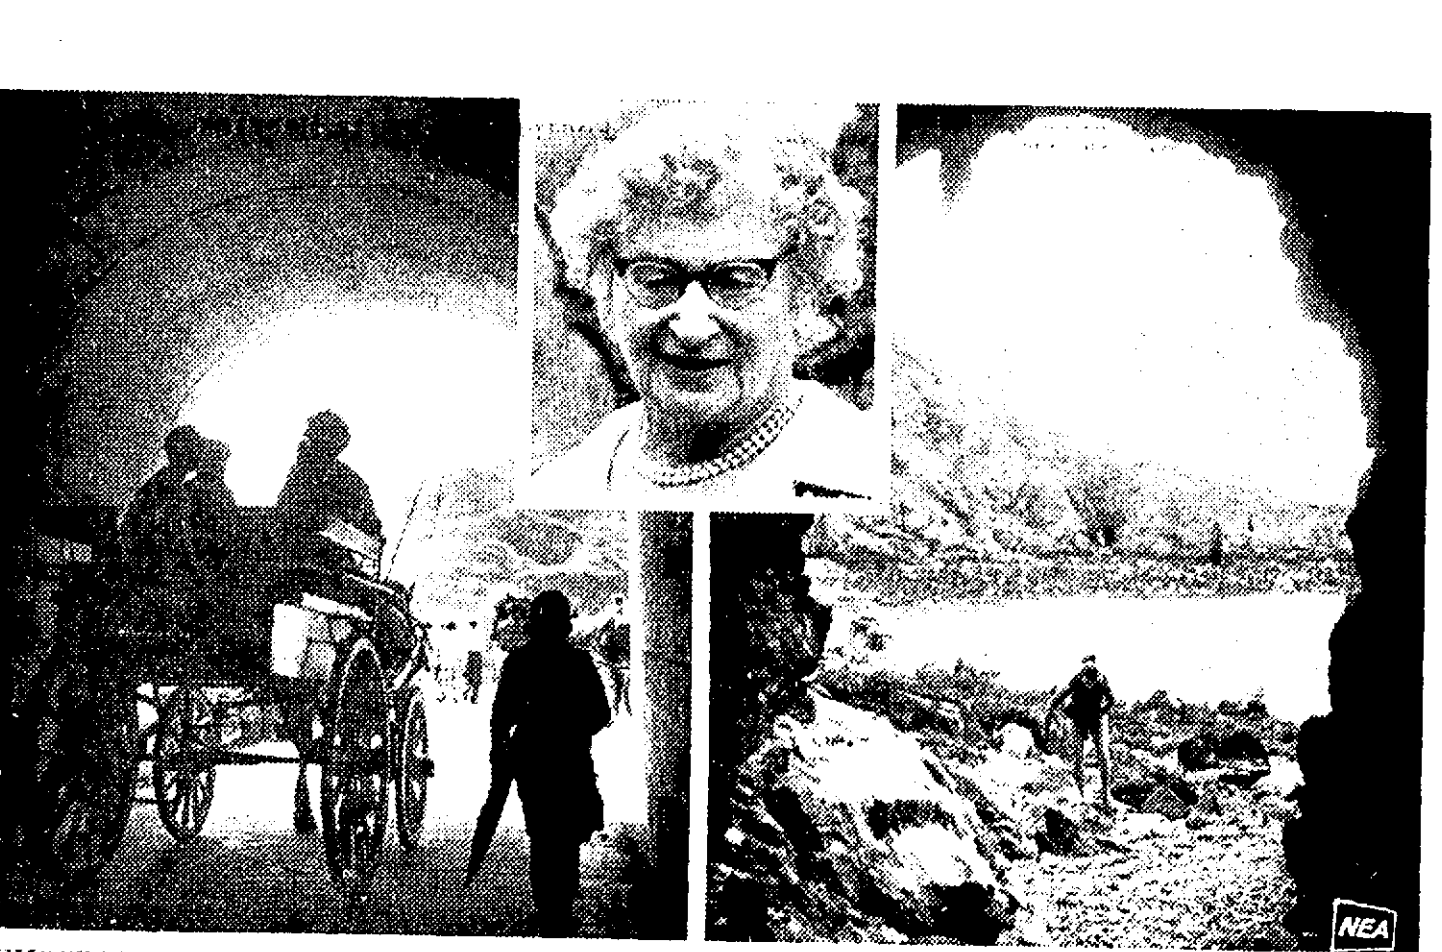

Jack Brabham of Australia, a former world driving champion, was third. Fourth place went to Jo Siffert of Switzerland, driving a 12-cylinder Porsche that is expected to be a threat in next year's Can-Am.

MORATORIUM II

Demonstrations during the Nov. 14-15 Moratorium in Washington cross the heart of the capital from east to west. The March Against Death is scheduled to begin at midnight, Thursday, Nov. 13, and continue until 40,000 marchers have gone from Arlington National Cemetery, past the White House to Capitol Hill to deposit names of American war dead in a coffin. Despite denial of a permit, Moratorium leaders insist on a Pennsylvania Avenue route, past the White House, again, to the Washington Monument for the Nov. 15 mass march. Alternative proposed by the Justice Department is Constitution Avenue.

Keeps Fingers Crossed for Quiet March

By MARY ELLEN RIDDLE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A policeman stationed in front of the White House during the Vietnam Moratorium march in October grinned broadly and returned the peace sign to marchers as they passed. When it was all over, many marchers approached the police to thank them for co-operating with the demonstrators.

Leaders of the massive demonstration scheduled to converge on the capital Nov. 14 and 15 hope things will be just as peaceful. Police say for the record they do not expect trouble.

Mobilization leaders have issued statements intended to discourage anyone who has visions of violent confrontations from coming to Washington.

Still, observers still see signs of some concern. Initial Justice Department refusal of permission to march down Pennsylvania Avenue, and Mobilization insistence on doing so, raised the possibility of a confrontation at a la Chicago and the Democratic convention.

Police force leave scheduled during the two days has been canceled, a move that was not thought necessary during the October demonstration. And while Pentagon officials respond "no comment" when asked if the military is prepared to act in the event of disturbances, the National Guard is calling out all capital Army and Air Force units for "regularly scheduled drill" Nov. 15 and 16.

"Whenever there is a large crowd in Washington, as at an inauguration, we are normally asked by the police department to help handle the crowd," Guard Col. C. C. Bryant said. "But no one has asked for our help yet."

Bryant said there are two ideas about the wisdom of announcing plans for crowd control in advance. Some people think if you let people know officials are prepared to handle any trouble, the announcement will act as a deterrent. Others think it will make people angry and bring on a confrontation.

"There has been a great attempt to play down anything that would indicate that steps are being taken to control any disorder and this delays our planning," he said. "But, at this time, we have not been officially asked to do anything."

Mobilization leaders hope their own marshals will be able to control the large crowds expected here. Two thousand will be on hand to guide marchers Nov. 15. Eight hundred, in four shifts, will work the March Against Death, which launches the Washington demonstrations Thursday, Nov. 13, at midnight and continues until 40,000 persons have marched single file past the White House. These marchers will drop cards with the names of American soldiers killed in Vietnam or Vietnamese villages destroyed by the fighting, in a coffin, which the Mobilization will try to deliver to President Nixon.

More than 2,000 additional marshals will be members of state contingents, march with them and be present at all the activities before and after the marches.

The marshals will be supervised by Mobilization leaders Fred Halstead and Brad Little, operating from a church on Capitol Hill. Halstead said the Mobilization Committee is co-operating with police and federal officials. They are obtaining permits for all marches and assemblies and have invited federal officials to attend marshals' meetings.

The promised appearance of the defendants in the Chicago conspiracy trial concerns some observers. Jerry Rubins came to Washington recently and said he and the other seven defendants would come to the capital with thousands of demonstrators in boxing gloves to challenge Justice Department officials to "come out and fight fair." Halstead said the Mobilization Committee will contact the defendants to encourage them to get a permit to demonstrate at the Justice Department and keep activities there peaceful and legal.

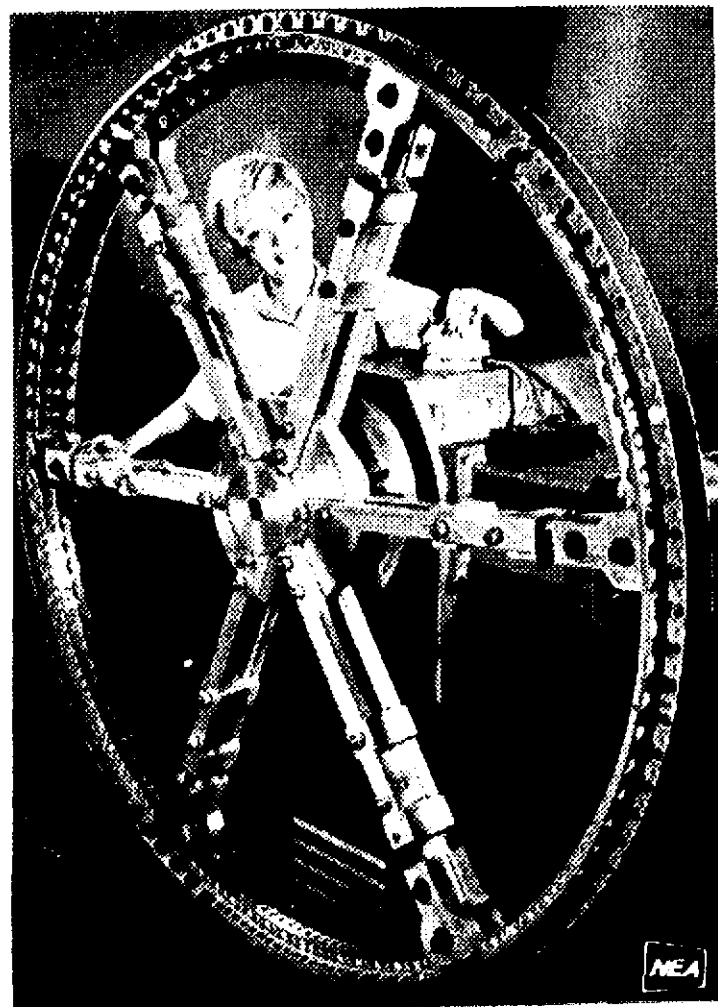

"The mood of the mass of people who will participate is confident," Halstead said. "There won't be any trouble because they aren't frustrated and angry."

Sam Brown, a leader of the October Vietnam Moratorium, asserts the November peace strike will be peaceful.

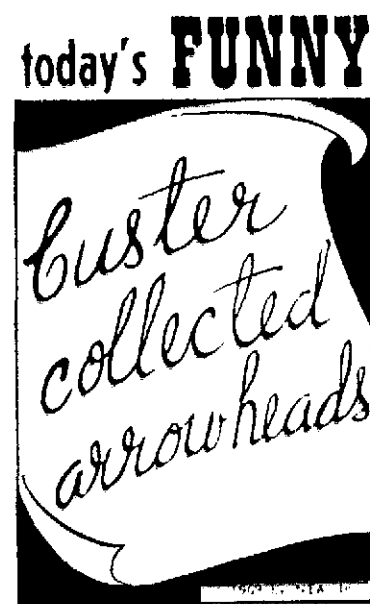

"The people who are saying the November demonstrations will be violent are the same people who predicted mass violence on Oct. 15. It won't happen this time either."

But keeping tabs on a crowd the size of the one expected here may be difficult; a lot of the fingers that are usually held up in the "V" (the sign of the peace movement) are now crossed.

FREE WHEELING is literally the purpose of this device. The rim is wound with 12.5 miles of niobium-tin ribbon, a superconductive material which loses all resistance to the flow of electric current when immersed in liquid helium. If practice goes according to theory, it should produce a magnetic effect so strong and stable that the entire 270-pound assembly will float free in space in its own magnetic field. For use in studying control of thermonuclear processes, it was built for Princeton University's Plasma Physics Laboratory by RCA.

Hawaii, Czar Rated as the Favorites

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Hawaii and Czar Alexander the two U.S. representatives, rated as the early co-favorites today on the eve of the Washington, D.C., International—an exercise in futility for most top picks in the past.

Only three favorites have won in the previous 17 runnings of this prestigious 1 1/2-mile race over the grass at Laurel. They were Sir Ivor of Ireland last year and U.S. representatives Bald Eagle in 1960 and Kelso in 1964.

Kelso also was a beaten favorite as were Damascus and Roman Brother, like Kelso each a U.S. Horse of the Year; Ballymoss of Ireland and Banassa of France.

This year's co-favorites both are foreign-bred but will represent the United States because they have been racing in this country. Hawaii, owned by Charles Engelhard, is from South Africa, and Czar Alexander, owned by Gustave Ring, was bred in Ireland.

Others in the field are Karabas of England, Hitchcock of Germany, Takeshita-O of Japan, Sabinus of Brazil and Don Florestan of Venezuela.

Hitchcock, a 3-year-old, will carry 120 pounds and the others 127 apiece.

There is a gross purse of $150,000 and first money of $100,000. Post time will be approximately 3:45 p.m., EST, with a radio broadcast to several foreign countries.

The field originally was set for 10, but Grandier and Goodly of France and Nodouble of the United States were withdrawn Friday.

While being loaded on an airplane in Paris Thursday, Grandier began kicking his box stall apart. This made Goodly, also being loaded, excited and the pilot ordered both horses off. Efforts were made to get Goodly here Friday, but his connections decided the excitement was too much for the 3-year-old to overcome.

Nodouble, owned by Gene Goff was declared out because he was running a fever. Hawaii was foiled in a bid to represent South Africa in the International in 1968 when he encountered difficulty in passing through quarantine. He earned his shot as a U.S. representative by posting six victories, all on the grass, in nine starts.

Monday, November 10, 1969

Czar Alexander, second in last year's International, was the last to be invited this year, after winning the Oak Tree Stakes at Santa Anita in the American turf record time of 2:23 2/5 for 1 1/2 miles. This broke the mark of 2:24 4/5 set by Kelso in the 1964 International.
